Eisinger Profi-Line – the new and stylish table-top hood

Refined design and high-quality technology in perfection: this combination of the new Profi-Line table-top hood from Eisinger Swiss will set new standards in the kitchen. The table-top hood is available in stainless steel and in black glass to meet personal customer preferences. The latter is outstandingly suitable for combining with ceramic hobs made from exactly the same black glass.

The table-top hood has a number of convenient technical extras to offer in addition to the basic design with edge extraction. These include stepless height adjustment and a child safety feature when stowing the hood away. The device is operated via a convenient external control unit.

The Eisinger Profi-Line table-top hood is available in widths of 900 and 1200 mm. The models of the Profi-Line are exceptionally suitable for integration in cooking islands, as are all Eisinger Swiss table-top hoods.

Franke Kitchen Systems will present the Eisinger Profi-Line extractor hood at the Swissbau trade show from 12 – 16 January 2010 in Basel. You can find us in Hall 2.1, Booth A32.
